MRS. VANDERBOOF.

She Refused Food in December and Also Shirked the Hired Men.

Cause of Cronie Found in Vanderhoof's Stomach, and His Wife Accused of Murder.

Her Confidant's Story as Told to a "Tribune" Reporter—Cause Pronounced by Him.

Rock Hill, March 3.—[Special.]—A week preceding the death of a widower for many years of Joseph Vanderhoof, and her positive refusal to allow the physicians to save her, the community in the neighborhood of this county, and it is not an exaggeration to say the entire county, was startled by the announcement that Mrs. Vanderhoof had been arrested on the charge of murdering her husband. The excitement which followed the announcement was intense, and the sheriff of the county was compelled to call out a force of deputies to protect the prisoner from violence. Mrs. Vanderhoof was taken to the county jail at Rock Hill, and there she has been confined ever since. Her trial will probably occur at the spring session of the court.

The life of Theodore Carl William Vanderhoof was often a long theme of chat at the log kingdom in the forest-house, and this matter was based on the judgment of the physician who had attended him during his illness. Two years after the death it began to be whispered about that Vanderhoof had been poisoned, that his body had been secretly exhumed, and that the autopsy had revealed a cause of death never before known in the annals of the county. Whose duties connected to him are not known as much as the Vanderhoof family. A family and friend Jacob Vanderhoof, who attended to take care of him in the latter part of his illness, and who has been under the direction of Dr. Bailey, of this city, and the deceased, Dr. Bailey, and who was known to have gone to the Doctor to procure the materials for the autopsy, Professor of Chemistry at the State University.

THE CROUCH MYSTERY.

Startling Testimony of a Girl Who Worked a Week for Mrs. Crouch.

Bloody Clothing Hidden in a Trunk—Alleged Discovery of Jacob Crouch's Papers.

A Sensational Note Said to Have Been Written by Mrs. Edwards—Many Known Dying.

Jackson, Mich., March 3.—[Special.]—The most interesting point in the Crouch murder is now that the district attorney, with considerable show of activity, has secured the services of Detective Frank and Sheriff Johnson and Deputy Crouch, two well-known officers in the employment of Detroit Private, and together with the Detectives of the Prosecuting Attorney, are working the latter unceasingly endeavoring to find the body of Jacob Crouch, and if possible to secure the papers which Mrs. Crouch burned in the stove. The girl who was employed by Mrs. Crouch a week previous to the murder, and who was present at the time the fire was built in the stove, is now in the custody of the officers, and is being closely questioned by the Prosecuting Attorney. The evidence is also quite circumstantial.

[illegible]

The girl, it is said, will also testify to a conversation between the two which transpired on the day of the murder, and which was to the effect that Mrs. Crouch would not be home until late, as she was going to a party, with an invitation to which Mrs. Crouch had refused to accept. The girl also says that she left the house at 5 o'clock, and that Mrs. Crouch was then alone in the house, and that she was busily engaged in packing a trunk, which she had brought down from the attic. Continental Powers Contemplating a Concerted Alliance Against England.

Parliamentary Discussion of the Egyptian War and the Dynamite Outrages.

Bill's Situation—The German Bill Vesting Short Ladies and Negroes.

A CONTINENTAL LEAGUE

Against England Contemplated by Continental Powers.

London, March 3.—The German Emperor appears to have the sympathy of Austria, Germany, and Russia with the leading object of the Continental Powers against the maritime and commercial preponderance of England. A powerful article appears in the Novoe Vremya which predicts the formation of a league, including France, to break the maritime supremacy of England, which, it says, is the accumulation of Egypt has completed the form of a gigantic chain, extending from Gibraltar to China and which allows the trade of Europe accessible to the commerce of the world, and making the Mediterranean and Indian Ocean English lakes.

The Berlin Post urges France to join the alliance, providing Germany acknowledges Egypt's right to keep troops for defense from England.

At Madrid, Count Rascon declares, in an article in the Correspondencia that Spain's progress, United Italy is a source of confidence. "England," he says, "is our friend and ally, but regards us with jealousy. It is England's fleet which is at the disposal of a Carlist campaign against the ground.

PARLIAMENTS

Discussion and Division on Egyptian Questions.

London, March 3.—A lively scene occurred in the House of Commons this afternoon. Questions were put to the Government regarding the readiness of others to Egypt while the Government refused to specify. Shortly after great excitement arose. Sir Wilfrid Lawson, Radical, moved that the House adjourn in order to discuss the Soudan question. He made a violent attack upon the Government, charging it with cowardice, blundering, treachery, and duplicity.

The Chancellor of the Exchequer said he had come to the conclusion after a careful and anxious study, that nothing remains for him but to withdraw to Great Britain.

Gladstone replied to the statements of the Wilfrid Lawson and justified the policy which the Government had been pursuing. He declared it was necessary to hold Suakim for the present in order to drive the slave traders.

Gladstone said the lack of efficiency in the Government's Egyptian policy had caused the embarrassments in the Soudan. It was the work of the Government to Khartoum, under a mere subordinate officer.

Lord Hartington's speech represented the general sentiment of the Government and was received with cheers.

Sir Stafford Northcote, Conservative leader, said the Government had allowed Gordon to go to Khartoum in connection with the affairs of the Soudan.

Gladstone replied that the Government had no intention of withdrawing from Egypt. Under the present circumstances it was necessary to maintain the occupation of Egypt.

Lord Hartington, Secretary of State for War, moved the British troops there should be withdrawn from Egypt.

Sir Stafford Northcote, Conservative leader, moved the previous question.

Gladstone, Chancellor of the Exchequer, said the Government had not decided to withdraw the troops from Egypt.

Sir Stafford Northcote's motion was then withdrawn.

Lord Hartington, Secretary of State for War, moved the British troops there should be withdrawn from Egypt

The Rev. A. Grimball, of Springfield, is at the Palmer.

A. T. Hamilton, U. S. A., and Miss Fanny Davenport are at the Leland.

Judge and Mrs. J. C. Caughey, of Madison, Wis., and Gen. and Mrs. John C. Fuller, of Davenport, Ia., are at the Grand Pacific.

The Hamlet Party, with Mr. Edwin Booth and family, of this city, arrived safely at New York yesterday morning at seven o'clock.

President John Lovejoy and Messrs. Geo. Hayes, George A. Russell, John Corbin, and C. W. Gale, members of the State Board of Agriculture, are at the Sherman.

Charleston dispatch received a dispatch from C. B. Stetson, Superintendent of the House of Charleston, who is lying sick with typhoid fever in New York. After having had his head shaved, he is reported entirely unable to direct the department.

IN GENERAL.

Jas Dunlop is under arrest for stealing the coat and vest of Jos. Dunn, 619 West Fifty-fifth street, the complaint in the affidavit of Mr. Dunn stating the coat was valued at $15, and the vest at $5.

The Republican yesterday, in charging by telegraph, upon a Boston dispatch, Treasurer Gunning was out $14,000, $7,000 of which was in gold, $7,000 in silver, and $14,000 in greenbacks, made a mistake of $14,000. Treasurer Gunning was out $7,000, and not $14,000.

Yesterday was the day that Peter Hansen, colored, who fatally shot Lewis Smith, also colored, in a saloon at 1,000 State street, was to have settled the accounts with the Coroner, but he failed to put in his appearance. The city has handed over $500 subscribed to get a conviction, and has the money.

Daniel Smith, an employé, died at the United States Hospital yesterday from opium. Deceased was 31 years old and unmarried. The grand jury will not be required, as the case is a plain one of suicide. Coroner Hertz has issued a permit for the deceased's funeral.

There were 130 deaths in the city last week, against 141 during the corresponding week in 1883. The principal causes of death were: Diphtheria, 10; consumption, eighteen; typhoid fever, seven; pneumonia, sixteen; typhoid fever, seven; convulsions, seven; cancer, four; cholera infantum, four; croup, three; bronchitis, three.

W. C. Dunkel entered examination before Justice Bixby, and was held to the Criminal Court in $1,000 bail. He is the bookkeeper who was formerly employed at the Fourteen Mile House, and it is alleged that from June 1 to the present time he has stolen $1,000 worth of whisky.

The Chicago Medical Society held its regular meeting at the Grand Pacific. Dr. Charles D. Wilson read a paper on "Cystic Disease Along the Urethral Organism." Dr. Isaac L. Ogden read a report of a case of "Laceration of the Urethra and Vagina During Labor, Followed by the Passage of the Greater Portion of the Bladder Through the Vagina."

E. J. Hanson, of No. 484 South Desplaines street, caused the arrest of his 15-year-old son John L. for larceny as bailee. The latter is alleged to have the year preceded a portion of the proceeds derived from sale of $40 worth of sewing machines, the property of his employers, the Singer Manufacturing Co. The latter is committed to the county jail.

A delegation from the Board of Education called upon Commissioner Gaynor for the purpose of learning his views in regard to the Board's application at the last city election. The Board has applied for $1,000,000 for the erection of school buildings, and the Commissioner wanted a letter from the Council.

The Council Committee on Fisheries and Bridges recommended that the Council make an appropriation for a bridge at Taylor street. The Committee on Streets and Alleys of the Board of Trade requested the Commissioner of Public Works to construct a temporary pavement on that part of Jackson street in the North, Kinzie, and Wentworth Wards.

An inquest was held at No. 446 Walnut street yesterday on the body of a boy named Edward Ryan, who died from the effects of a fall from the fifth story of the building. The child fell down an open elevator shaft, and was killed instantly. The jury rendered a verdict in accordance with the facts.

The infirmities account of Charles C. Smith, former guardian of Emil L. and Bertram Hoffman, was examined and allowed in the Probate Court. The account shows that the estate of the boys at the time of the death of the former guardian there had been paid out, as per vouchers filed, $11,000, and that the amount of the estate then in the hands of the Administrator was $21,000. The balance in the hands of the Administrator, according to the latest account, is $10,000.

S. W. Dorsey, the Polish youth who has written a number of threatening letters to the Rev. Dr. Somers, of the First Baptist Church, was examined in that church Sunday night by Justice Prosser. Young Dorsey, after confessing a number of the letters, was held to the Criminal Court in $1,000 bail, which was furnished by his father. The latter, after the examination, said he would send the boy to a reformatory.

Henry Bowers, a fellow-servant whose home is at the Old Soldiers' Asylum, was discharged yesterday night by a jury which, after hearing a thousand and one pieces of evidence, decided that Bowers was not guilty of the murder of Frank Bell, the latter, when he was drunk, the night of May 31, 1883, having struck Bowers with a stick of wood, which he picked up from the ground after the latter had struck him with a brick. Bowers was discharged from custody.

D. C. Stetson, of No. 484 South Desplaines street, caused the arrest of his 15-year-old son John L. for larceny as bailee. KILLED HIS WIFE.

A Widow-Dr. Gleason on the Stand Now Confesses to the Commission of the Crime.

The trial today of Wm. Thomas Gleason, the friend claiming possession for a period of 20 years of a small fringe upon or by the Schuetz grant, formed the usual accumulation of the Criminal Court, and several spectators on the hard benches in the hall were disappointed and disgusted at finding that the trial was delayed and postponed. Gleason, presumably pale and haggard, found himself in the custody of the Sheriff, and was taken to the prisoner's box, where he remained during the proceedings, which were as follows:

Assistant State's Attorney Longenecker stated that the People were ready for trial, and that Gleason was present in court. Gleason's counsel, Messrs. Ingham & Ingham, stated that they were not ready for trial, and that Gleason was not present. Mr. Longenecker stated that he had subpoenaed Gleason, and that he was present in court. Mr. Ingham stated that Gleason was not present, and that he was not ready for trial

THE CITY COUNCIL.

Proposition to Issue Five Hundred Bonds to Replace the Clinton-Clay Tax-lot Bonds Again.

Report of the Commissioner on the Construction of the New City-Hall—About the pavements.

The City Council met last night. A communication was received from the Commissioner stating that sufficient funds to the amount of $250,000, issued July 1, 1883, would become due July 1, 1884, and, as no appropriation had been made for their payment, he recommended the passage of the ordinance authorizing the issue of a like amount of sewerage bonds for the liquidation of those falling due the next month. He stated that July 1, 1884, will be the second year from date, with interest due to support the same.

Referred to the Finance Committee.

The same official presented a communication stating that he had received but one bid for lighting the city, which was from the Chicago Gaslight & Coke Company for lighting the North and South Sides. The company offered to furnish gas for 21 and 1,000 feet, provided contracts were awarded for one and two years from and after the 1st day of July, 1884, and that the city would pay for and furnish the lamps, the contract to be on the conditions that the lamps were lighted every night throughout the city for uniform, and that the gas be measured by meters.

Referred to the Committee on Lighting.

Alderman Cullerton (Eighth ward) offered the following ordinance for a [illegible] on Halsted street, between Archer avenue and Thirty-first street, and the appropriation of $5,000, with which to construct a [illegible] on the same:

Referred to the Committee on Streets and Alleys.

The Commissioner of Public Works, accompanied by the Attorney, appeared before the Committee on Streets and Alleys in relation to the proposed widening of Halsted street.

Alderman Cullerton (Eighth ward) introduced an ordinance providing for the appointment of a Commissioner to condemn property for the widening of Halsted street, from Archer avenue to Thirty-first street, and the appropriation of $5,000 for the purpose.

Referred to the Committee on Streets and Alleys.

The Committee on Judiciary recommended the passage of an ordinance authorizing the Commissioner of Public Works to issue permits for the erection of [illegible] on Halsted street, between Archer avenue and Thirty-first street, and the appropriation of $5,000 for the purpose.

The report was adopted
